PROCESS CAP III ASSIGNMENTS
(LOSING COMMAND)
PART I
DETERMINE ELIGIBILITY FOR REASSIGNMENT

This test consists of five situations that cover every training objective of the lesson. These situations have a total value of 35 points. When you have completed the test, check your answers against the Pre-test/Post-test Answer Key on page 63. If you do not score at least 28 points, you must take the lesson-or take it again if you have already taken it. Write your responses on a separate sheet of paper. Do not write in this book.

PRE-TEST/POST-TEST

You are a Personnel Management Specialist working in a Military Personnel Office. Your supervisor has asked you to determine the eligibility for reassignment for the soldiers listed on two CAP III Rosters.

On the following page you will find two CAP III Rosters containing five soldiers' assignment information. Following the roster will be the DA Forms needed to determine if these soldiers are eligible and available for their respective assignments.

Using the CAP III Rosters, the personnel records for each soldier, and AR 614-200, determine whether or not each soldier is eligible for reassignment based on his AEA code, MOS, remaining service, DEROS, SIS, and citizenship.

Make a xerographic copy of the answer grid on page 62, or prepare an answer grid as shown below on a separate sheet of paper.

	RESTRICTIONS
	AEA	MOS	Remaining Service	DEROS	SIS	Citizenship	ELIGIBLE
	A	B	C	D	E	F	G
1. HAHL	☐	☐	☐	☐	☐	☐	☐
2. WRIGHT	☐	☐	☐	☐	☐	☐	☐
3. MILLS	☐	☐	☐	☐	☐	☐	☐
4. BOBINSKI	☐	☐	☐	☐	☐	☐	☐
5. METZ	☐	☐	☐	☐	☐	☐	☐

On your answer sheet, select from answers in columns A through G. If a soldier has a restriction or a number of restrictions, place an "X" in the appropriate column(s). If a soldier has no restrictions place an "X" in column G (ELIGIBLE). If you select column G, there should be no responses in columns A through F. If you do not select "G" (ELIGIBLE), remember that there may be more than one reason the soldier is not eligible. Be sure you consider all information in making your determinations.

Remember to make your marks on a separate sheet of paper. Do not write in this book.

INTRODUCTION

Our Army is very large, and thousands of soldiers move throughout the world each month. It is easy for you to see that such a great turn-over of people would be difficult to keep track of without a well-managed "assignment" system.

Instructions concerning movement of soldiers are received by personnel offices in the form of CAP III Assignment Rosters. The term CAP III means Centralized Assignment Procedures, Third Generation. The third generation refers to a complex series of computer systems which assist the assignment system. When a soldier "has an assignment," this means he is going to a certain unit and location. CAP III Assignments are generated world-wide for all soldiers going from one station to another.

Gaining new assignments is a very important factor in every soldier's career. Therefore, it is very important that you learn the procedures for processing the CAP III Assignment Roster. You may be responsible for servicing personnel to ensure that they are properly assigned to their next duty station. You may be responsible also for taking deletion action for personnel who are not qualified or who cannot meet the assignment requirements for some reason.

Before you can effectively process assignments you must become familiar with the forms used in the process. Most of the forms, checklists, and items of information come from a soldier's MPRJ (Military Personnel Records Jacket). The forms that you must refer to most often, and the ones which will be used most often in this lesson are:

1. DA Form 2A, Personnel Qualifications Record (PQR), Part 1
2. DA Form 2-1, PQR, Part 2
3. CAP III Roster, Part 6, Losing Assignments.

DA FORM 2A

DA Form 2A is the first part of the basic record for enlisted personnel. The form is divided into six sections: I-Personal Data, II-Qualification Data, III-Unit Data, IV-Service Data, V-Position Data, and VI-Local Data.

If you are not familiar with the entries on this form, you may want to review AR 640-2-1, Table 2-1 and AR 680-29 which provide descriptions of the entries and codes used on this form.

The items which provide information important in the determination of a soldier's eligibility for reassignment are identified in figure 1. It is important that you become familiar with the meanings of these items and with their location. You will be using these items on a regular basis in making your determinations of eligibility for reassignment.

NAME. . . . . Name of the soldier
SSN . . . . . Social Security Number
CITZSHP . . . . Citizenship Code
GRADE/CODE. . . Grade in which the soldier is serving
PMOS/ASI. . . . Primary Military Occupational Specialty/Additional Skill Identifier
SCTY STS CODE . Security Status Code
SMOS/ASI. . . . Secondary Military Occupational Specialty/Additional Skill Identifier
BONUS MOS . . . Special Enlistment Bonus (EB) or Selective Reenlistment Bonus (SRB) MOS
ETS . . . . . Expiration Term of Service
DROS/DEROS. . . Date Returned From Overseas/Date Eligible to Return from Overseas
AEA/TERM DATE . Assignment Eligibility and Availability code/Termination Dates for certain codes

DA Form 2-1 (Assignment Considerations)

DA Form 2-1 is the second part of the basic record for enlisted personnel. The form is divided into many sections that present a soldier's personal and military information. Although information in many of the sections may influence the consideration of a soldier for a particular assignment, one of the most important entries when determining assignment eligibility will be found in section II, block 4, ASSIGNMENT CONSIDERATIONS. See AR 640-2-1, Table 3-1 for a description of this section.

This section lists any consideration that may affect a soldier's eligibility for specific assignments. The following are examples of assignment considerations that might be found in this section:

TEC LESSON

PRACTICE EXERCISE 1

Using the DA Forms 2A and 2-1 on the following page, write the answers to the following questions. Do not write in this book. For reference purposes you may use figures 1 and 2.

1. What is the soldier's social security number?

2. What is the soldier's PMOS?

3. What is the soldier's AEA code?

4. Does the soldier have a bonus MOS? If so, what is it?

5. Does the soldier have an SMOS? If so, what is it?

6. What is the soldier's security status code?

7. What is the soldier's DROS/DEROS date?

8. Is there an assignment consideration that may affect this soldier's eligibility?

Check your answers with the solutions provided. If you did well, continue on. If you had problems with the Practice Exercise, review this part of the lesson.

CAP III Roster

As a Personnel Management Specialist you may be receiving CAP III Rosters to process. These rosters notify the Military Personnel Office of personnel gains and losses. To effectively process CAP III Rosters you must be able to locate and understand the various entries on this roster.

The top of the roster contains the general title of the report, the preparation date, the name and location of the unit processing the roster, and various computer control numbers. Assignment information is presented on one of three lines.

1. SPF (SIDPERS Personnel File) Line.
   The SPF line contains data elements which pertain to the soldier. Elements are extracted from computer memory banks. The SPF line is a "capsule" record of the soldier.

2. AI (Assignment Instructions) Line.
   The AI line contains data elements which pertain to the assignment (where the soldier is going and what the requirements of the assignment are).

3. SI (Special Instructions) Line.
   The SI line lists any special instructions required for the assignment.

You should be familiar with most of these entries since they are also contained on the soldier's DA Form 2A. The information on the SPF line should match the information on DA Form 2A. Always verify the correctness of the SPF line by comparing it to the individual's DA Form 2A. If the information on the SPF line is not the same as the information on DA Form 2A, base your decisions on DA Form 2A, since this information is the more current.

If you have reviewed the entries and the layout of the CAP III Roster, you should now be ready for a practice exercise.

DETERMINING ELIGIBILITY & AVAILABILITY

The CAP III system is an automated nomination and assignment procedure that compares a soldier's qualifications with the requirements of a new assignment.

When you receive a roster, it tells you WHO is projected to leave your location, WHERE the soldier is to go (assignment), and WHEN he is supposed to be there (arrival date, year/month).

Although there may be many soldiers listed on a CAP III roster, not everyone is eligible or available to depart your location. It will be your job to compare a soldier's personnel file information with the assignment's requirements to determine his eligibility and availability for the assignment.

Some of the major qualifications which you need to consider when determining eligibility and availability are listed below.

- AEA (Assignment Eligibility and Availability) code
- MOS and skill level
- Remaining service
- DEROS (Date Eligible to Return From Overseas)
- SIS (Security Investigation Status)
- Citizenship

Brief descriptions follow on how you will use each of these qualifications in determining a soldier's eligibility and availability for assignment. The first three restrictions are discussed in the following section.

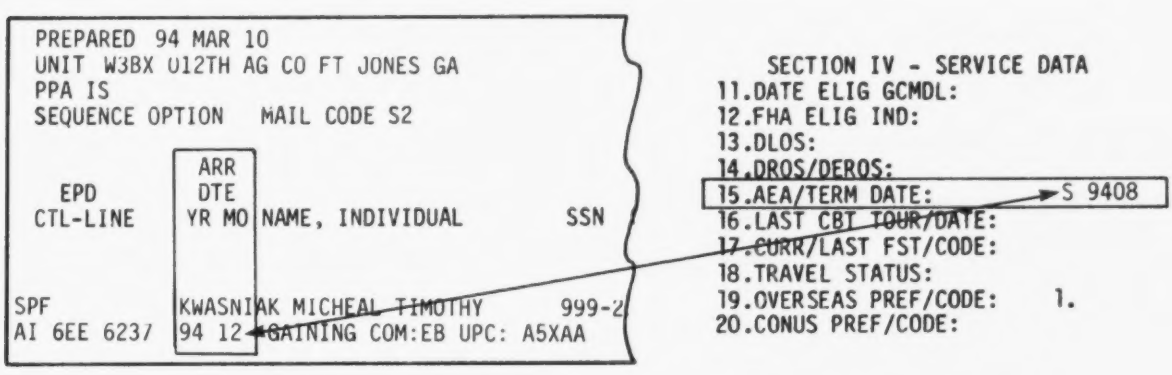
TEC LESSON

AEA (Assignment Eligibility and Availability) code

A soldier's assignment eligibility and availability for reassignment will be shown by an AEA code. An AEA code is awarded to a soldier upon arrival at a unit. It is updated as required.

To determine whether or not there is an AEA restriction, locate the soldier's AEA code. Always verify the soldier's AEA code on the CAP III roster with the AEA code on DA Form 2A. AEA codes can change and the new code may not be shown on the CAP III Roster. To be sure you are using the most up-to-date information, base your AEA decisions on DA Form 2A, section IV, item 15.

In determining AEA restrictions, you will always refer to the soldier's AEA code. In some cases you may be comparing the AEA/TERM DATE with the ARR DTE of the new assignment, remembering that the ARR DTE refers to any day in that month.



CAP III Roster

DA Form 2A, Section IV

If there is no AEA code listed, there are no restrictions and the soldier is eligible for reassignment. The most common AEA code for soldiers who are eligible is "L." A soldier with an AEA code of "L" without a termination date following it is eligible. An AEA code of "L" with a termination date following it means that he will be eligible for reassignment on or after the termination date.

AEA/TERM DATE:

AEA line blank - no restrictions

AEA/TERM DATE: L

AEA code "L" - no restrictions

AEA/TERM DATE: L 960516

AEA code "L" with termination date - soldier will be eligible for reassignment on or after the termination date.

If the AEA code is other than "L," see if there is a termination date next to it. If no termination date is shown, the restriction is permanent and the soldier is not eligible for reassignment. If a termination date is shown, compare that date with the ARR DTE of the assignment.

If the termination date is after the ARR DTE, the soldier is not eligible for the assignment. If the termination date is on or before the ARR DTE, the soldier is eligible because the restriction will have expired by the time he is due to arrive at the new assignment.

The meaning of this AEA/TERM DATE, can be found in AR 614-200, Chapter 2. In accordance with AR 614-200, the AEA code "A" is used when soldiers are medically disqualified for reasons such as pregnancy or convalescence. The TERM DATE (961215) is the estimated date that the medical situation will be resolved. Although the soldier is temporarily ineligible, he will be eligible for assignments starting on or after the TERM DATE.

A 961215

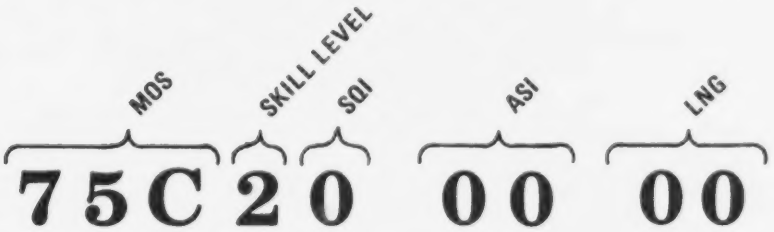
A description of AEA codes and termination dates can be found in AR 614-200, chapter 2.

TEC LESSON

MOS/MOSC

Military Occupational Specialty (MOS) is a broad occupational identification. For example, the MOS for Personnel Management Specialist is 75C.

The Military Occupational Specialty Code (MOSC) provides more specific information. It can contain up to nine alpha-numeric characters that indicate details of occupational identity. The elements of the MOSC are:



(1) First three characters. These are 3-character MOS- two numbers and one letter that identify the MOS without regard to level of skill.

(2) Fourth character. This is a number. It shows the skill and grade level in the MOS.

(3) Fifth character. This will be a number or a letter. It shows special qualification identifiers (SQI). The letter "O" will be inserted when a position does not require special qualifications or an individual is not qualified for an SQI.

(4) Sixth and seventh characters. These characters show additional skill identifiers (ASI). They will be an alpha-numeric combination. The numbers "OO" will be inserted when no ASI is required or an individual has no ASI.

(5) Eighth and ninth characters. These 2-letter combinations identify foreign language requirements and qualifications. The letters "OO" will be inserted when no foreign language is required or when a soldier's qualifications are undetermined.

The MOSC for a soldier is found on the SPF line of the CAP III Roster. The MOSC for an assignment is found on the AI line of the CAP II Roster.

ASSIGNMENT MOSC

To determine whether or not there is an MOS restriction, compare the soldier's MOSC with the assignment MOSC. If there is a match, the soldier is eligible. Soldiers are eligible for assignments in their MOS at the same skill level, or up to two skill levels higher if no soldiers are available at the proper level. In addition to the MOS, to be eligible for an assignment there must be a match between a soldier's ASI and LNG qualifications and the assignment's ASI and LNG requirements.

Soldiers with the following PMOS's would be eligible for the above ASGN MOS.

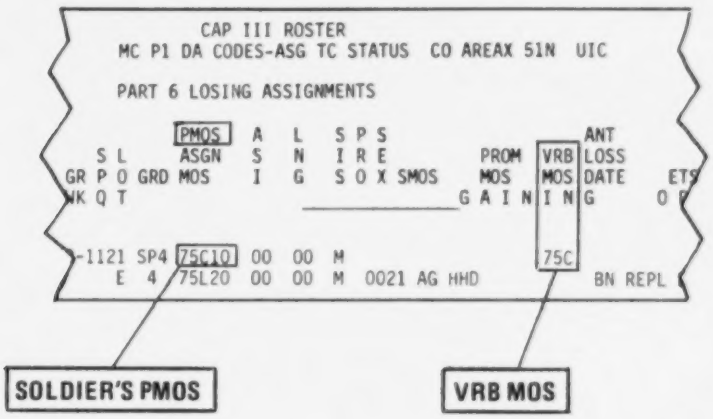
64C30
64C20

Soldiers with the following PMOS's would be ineligible for the above ASGN MOS.

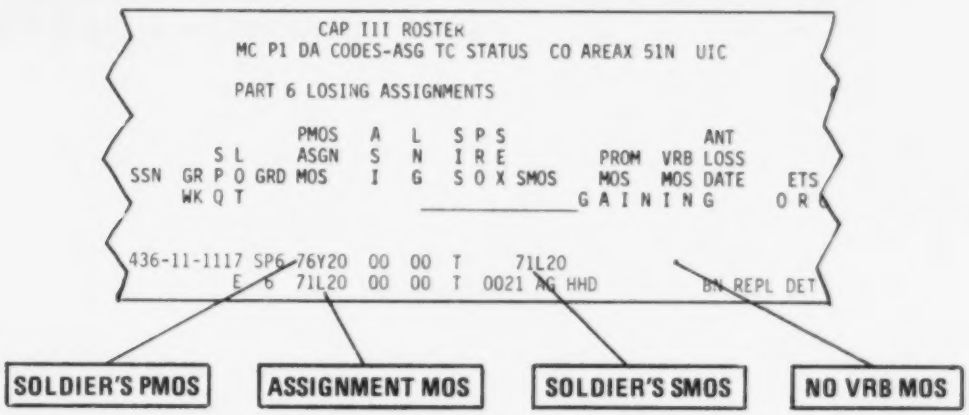
64C10
65B40
75C20

If a soldier's PMOS and the ASGN MOS are different, check to see if he is drawing bonus money for his PMOS (CAP III Roster SPF line, under VRB MOS). If he is, in most cases he can only be assigned to the MOS for which he is drawing bonus money (See AR 600-200 for a description of bonus requirement).



The soldier in the example above is receiving bonus money as a 75C and can only be assigned to a 75C assignment. In this case he is ineligible for the new assignment (76L20) due to an MOS restriction.

If the soldier is not receiving bonus money for an MOS, and if there is a match between his SMOS and the assignment MOS, he is eligible for the assignment.



The soldier in the example above is not receiving bonus money for an MOS. His PMOS (76Y) does not match the ASGN MOS (71L), however, his SMOS (71L) does match the ASGN MOS. In this case the soldier is eligible for the new assignment.

If there are no matches between a soldier's PMOS or SMOS and the assignment MOS, then the soldier is ineligible because of an MOS restriction.

Remaining Service

To determine if a soldier has sufficient service remaining for an assignment, compare the ETS of the soldier (CAP III Roster, AI line, under ETS) with the ARR DTE YR MO of the new assignment (CAP III Roster, AI line, under ARR DTE YR MO). Soldiers must have a minimum of 12 months of service remaining to be eligible for reassignment. If there is less than 12 months between the ARR DTE and the ETS, the soldier is ineligible because of an insufficient remaining service restriction.

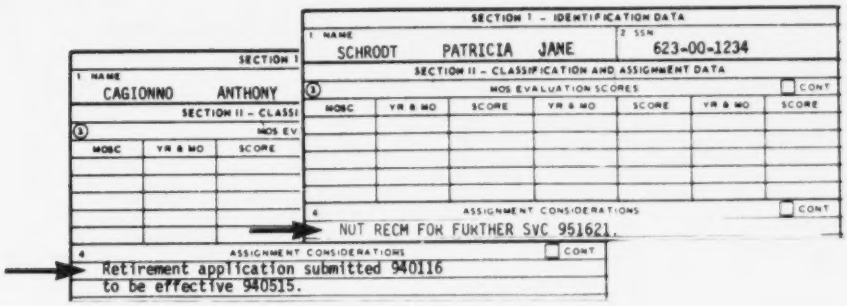
The soldier in the example above has 9 months between his ETS (9506) and the ARR DTE for the new assignment (9409). Since he would not be able to serve 12 months in the new assignment, he is ineligible due to an insufficent remaining service restriction.

TEC LESSON

If the CAP III Roster indicates a remaining service restriction, check DA Form 2-1, section II, block 4 for verification. This section may list the reasons why the soldier is terminating service.



DA FORM 2-1

AEA, MOS, and Remaining Service restrictions

The following table presents a brief review of the first three restrictions covered in this lesson.

Check the following:	See Pages:	Ineligible if:
AEA code of the indivdual (DA Form 2A, section D, #15)	(24 - 25)	AEA code is A,B,K,S,U,V,X or the AEA code is one of the above with a TERM DTE that is LATER than the ARR DTE; AEA code is "L" with a TERM DTE that is LATER than the ARR DTE.
MOS of the individual compared to MOS on the AI line.	(26 - 28)	MOS on the AI line is neither the PMOS or SMOS of the individual, or individual is receiving bonus money and the AI line calls for MOS other than PMOS, or the ASGN MOS is more than 2 skill levels above PMOS or SMOS.
Remaining Service (ETS) of the individual compared to the ARR DTE.	(29)	There is LESS THAN 12 months between ARR DTE and ETS.

If you have reviewed these restrictions and know how to apply them, you should now be ready for a practice exercise.

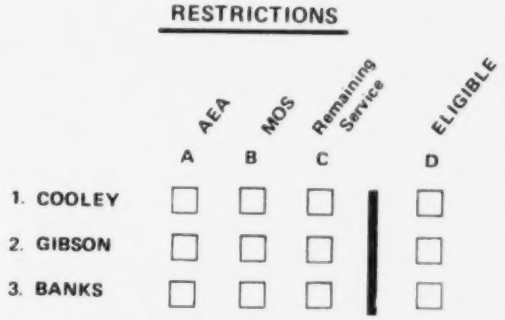
PRACTICE EXERCISE 3

On the following page you will find a CAP III Roster containing three names. Following the CAP III Roster are the DA forms needed to determine if these soldiers are eligible and available for their respective assignments.

Using the CAP III Roster, the personnel records for each soldier, AR 614-200, and, if necessary, figures 1-4 and table 1, determine whether or not each soldier is eligible for reassignment based on his/her:

- AEA code
- MOS
- Service remaining

Make a xerographic copy of the Practice Exercise answer grid on page 61, or prepare a grid as shown below on a separate sheet of paper.



On your answer sheet, select from answers in columns A through D. If a soldier has a restriction or number of restrictions, place an "X" in the appropriate column(s). If a soldier has no restrictions place an "X" in column D (ELIGIBLE). If you select column D, there should be no responses in columns A through C. If you do not select D (ELIGIBLE), remember that there may be more than one reason a soldier is not eligible. Be sure you consider all information in making your determinations.

Remember to make your marks on a separate piece of paper. Do not write in this book.

Check your answers with the solutions provided. If you did well, continue on. If you had problems with the Practice Exercise, review this part of the lesson.

SOLUTIONS TO PRACTICE EXERCISE 3

	A	B	C	D
1. COOLEY	☒	☐	☒	☐

A. AEA code of soldier is "A" with a termination date of 9512. In accordance with AR 614-200 soldiers are given an AEA code "A" when they are temporarily ineligible for reassignment. PFC Cooley will be eligible again on the termination date 9512. However, the ARR DTE is 9510. The AEA restriction applies because the AEA term date is after the assignment ARR DTE.

B. MOS of soldier matches MOS of assignment.

C. Remaining service (ETS) of soldier is 960208. The ARR DTE for the assignment is 9510. There are only four months between the ARR DTE and ETS. Remember, to be eligible for assignment, soldiers must be able to serve 12 months from the ARR DTE.

D. Due to the above restrictions, the soldier is ineligible.

	A	B	C	D
2. GIBSON	☐	☐	☐	☒

A. AEA code is "L" no restriction.

B. MOS of the soldier does not match ASGN MOS. SMOS of the soldier does match the ASGN MOS. The soldier is not receiving bonus money in her PMOS. Therefore she may be reassigned in her SMOS since the ASGN MOS is within two skill levels of her SMOS.

C. Remaining Service (ETS) of soldier is 970527. ARR DTE of new assignment is 9507. Soldier would be able to serve 12 months in the new assignment.

D. There are no restrictions. This soldier is eligible.

	A	B	C	D
3. BANKS	☐	☒	☐	☐

A. AEA term date (9506) will expire before ARR DTE of new assignment (9508), therefore no restriction.

B. MOS of the soldier does not match MOS of assignment. SMOS of soldier does match MOS of assignment, however, soldier is receiving bonus money for his PMOS and cannot be assigned in any other MOS.

C. Remaining service (ETS) of soldier is 970409. ARR DTE of new assignment is 9508. PFC Banks would be able to serve 12 months in the new assignment.

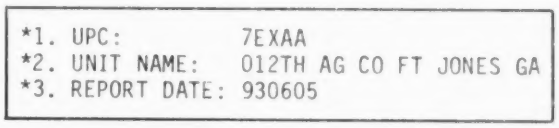
D. Due to the above MOS restriction, the soldier is ineligible.

You have just learned about three important restrictions that are considered when determining eligibility for reassignment. The following section presents the final three restrictions covered in this lesson.

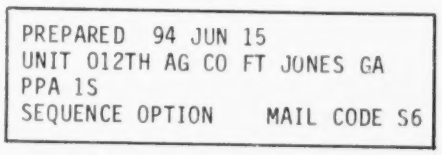
DEROS (Date Eligible for Return From Overseas)

Whether a soldier has a "DEROS" or a "DROS" date depends on whether or not he is overseas. All soldiers who are overseas have a DEROS (Date eligible to return from overseas) date. If a soldier has been overseas and has returned, he will have a DROS (Date returned from overseas) date. If a soldier has never been overseas the item will be blank.

In most cases you will be processing soldiers from your own installation, so you will know whether they are overseas or not. For the purposes of this lesson you can determine where a soldier is currently stationed by looking at DA Form 2A, Section III (Unit Data), Item 2, or CAP III Roster, upper left corner, next to UNIT.



DA Form 2A, Section III (UNIT DATA)



CAP III ROSTER, Upper Left Corner

As you can see in the example above, these forms are describing someone currently stationed at Fort Jones, Georgia.

The DEROS restriction usually occurs when you are stationed overseas and you are processing CAP III Rosters for soldiers who may be eligible to leave your overseas installation.

To determine a DEROS restriction compare the soldier's DEROS date with the ARR DTE on the AI line of the CAP III roster. If the DEROS date is on or before the ARR DTE, the soldier is eligible. If the DEROS date is after the ARR DTE there is a DEROS restriction because the soldier would not be able to arrive at the new assignment on time.

As you can see in the CAP III Roster above, SP4 Stingle is eligible to return from overseas (DEROS) on 940709 or 09 JULY 94. The new assignment ARR DTE is 9408 or AUG 94. Since she is eligible to leave in JULY she may be assigned to the new assignment starting in AUG.

SP4 Tanner has a DEROS of 941012 or 12 OCT 94. The new assignment ARR DTE is 9408 or AUG 94. Since he is not eligible to leave until OCT 94 he is ineligible for the new assignment due to a DEROS restriction.

SIS (Security Investigation Status)

Assignment instructions include the degree of security investigation required for each assignment. To be eligible for an assignment the SIS code on a soldier's DA Form 2A must be equal to or higher than the SIS code listed on the AI line of the CAP III Roster. If the soldier's SIS code is lower than the assignment requires, the soldier is temporarily ineligible. (Table 2 is an excerpt from AR 680-29 which listed SIS codes.)

As you can see in Table 2, a soldier with an SIS code of "D" would be immediately eligible for all positions requiring an SIS code of "D" or all of the codes below "D" (C,M,X,Z,Y). He would be temporarily ineligible for positions requiring higher SIS codes.

As can be seen in the example above, SP4 Brown has an SIS rating of "G". Since the new assignment also requires an SIS rating of "G", he is eligible for the new assignment. SP4 Brown would also be eligible for positions requiring less extensive SIS ratings.

SP4 Hichar has an SIS rating of "A". Since the new assignment requires an SIS rating of "T", he is temporarily ineligible because an SIS rating of "T" is two levels higher than an SIS rating of "A".

The SIS restriction does not necessarily stop a soldier from qualifying for an assignment. If the soldier's SIS code is lower than the required SIS, commanders may request an upgrade of the soldier's code. In many cases the investigation can be completed in time for the soldier to meet the requirements of a new assignment.

CITZENSHIP

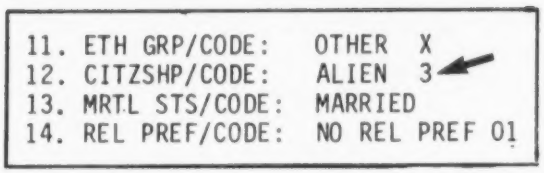
The citizenship restriction only concerns citizens of Germany. A German National cannot be assigned to the Federal Republic of Germany (or West Germany) since he would be eligible for conscription (draft) under German law.

To determine if there is a citizenship or alien restriction, check under the GAINING ORGANIZATION heading on the AI line of the CAP III Roster. If it has APO NY*NY following the unit name and location, it may be an assignment in Germany. As you gain experience in the personnel office you will begin to recognize various overseas command locations such as:

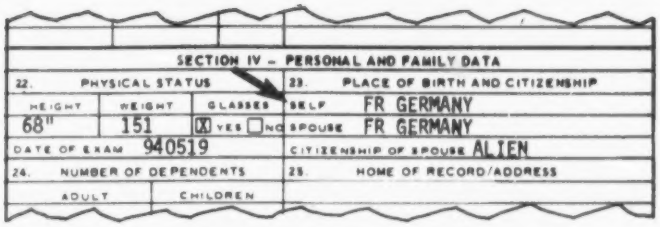
0021 AG HHD BN REPL DET FRANKFURT E 09057 NY*NY (GERMANY)
0529 MP CO HEIDELBG E 09102 NY*NY (GERMANY)
W369 USA MILPERCEN-K OFF REPL YONG-SAN S96301 SF*CA (KOREA)

If the assignment is in Germany check to see if the soldier is an alien (DA Form 2A, section I, item 12). If he is an alien, check his place of birth and citizenship (DA Form 2-1, section IV, block 23).

If the soldier is a German citizen and he is being assigned to Germany, he is ineligible for the assignment. A German National is only restricted from going to Germany. Consequently, he is eligible for assignment to any other area of the world.



DA Form 2A, Section I
Personal Data



DA Form 2-1, Section IV,
Personal and Family Data

As can be seen in the example above, this soldier is an alien and a German citizen. He could not be assigned to an installation in Germany.

For an in depth description of eligibility requirements for oversea assignments, see AR 614-30.

DEROS, SIS, and Citizenship restrictions

The following table presents a brief review of the previous three restrictions covered in this lesson.

Check the following:	See Pages:	Ineligible if:
DEROS date of individual compared to ARR DTE.	(37 - 38)	DEROS date is AFTER the ARR DTE.
SIS of individual compared to SIS requirements on AI line.	(38 - 39)	The SIS on the AI line is HIGHER than the individual's SIS.
GAINING COMMAND on the AI line.	(39 - 40)	The assignment is to Germany and the individual is a German citizen.

Table 3

If you have reviewed these restrictions and know how to apply them, you should now be ready for a practice exercise.

PRACTICE EXERCISE 4

On the following page you will find a CAP III Roster containing three names. Following the CAP III Roster are the DA forms needed to determine if these soldiers are eligible and available for their respective assignments.

Using the CAP III Roster, the personnel records for each soldier, AR 614-200, and if necessary, figures 1-4 and Tables 2 and 3, determine whether or not each soldier is eligible for reassignment based on his:

- DEROS
- SIS
- Citizenship

Use a copy of the Practice Exercise answer grid, or prepare an answer grid as shown below on a separate sheet of paper.

	RESTRICTIONS
	DEROS	SIS	Citizenship	ELIGIBLE
	A	B	C	D
1. ARMOUR	☐	☐	☐	☐
2. THAYER	☐	☐	☐	☐
3. FISHER	☐	☐	☐	☐

On your answer sheet, select from answers in columns A through D. If a soldier has a restriction or a number of restrictions, place an "X" in the appropriate column(s). If a soldier has no restrictions place an "X" in column D (ELIGIBLE). If you select column D, there should be no responses in columns A through C. If you do not select D (ELIGIBLE), remember that there may be more than one reason a soldier is not eligible. Be sure you consider all information in making your determinations.

Remember to make your marks on a separate piece of paper. Do not write in this book.

Check your answers with the solutions provided. If you did well, continue on. If you had problems with the Practice Exercise, review this part of the lesson.

TEC LESSON

ON THE JOB

When you are on the job you will be required to use numerous forms when processing CAP III Rosters.

During your initial screening of a soldier's records, you are required to fill out DA Form 5118-R, reassignment Eligibility Checklist, DA Pam 600-8-10. This form presents a comprehensive checklist of all the factors that may affect a soldier's eligibility and availability for reassignment. To fill out this form you will need a soldier's entire Military Personnel Records Jacket (MPRJ). In many cases you may even interview the soldier during the CAP III process.

On the next three pages you will find an example of the Reassignment Eligibility Checklist. Take a look at this form. If you have completed the previous sections of this lesson, many of the items on the checklist should be familiar to you.

Following the Reassignment Eligibility Checklist is a Self Evaluation Exercise that covers all the material in this lesson. If you have completed the pratice exercises and understand how to apply the six restrictions, you should now be ready for the Self Evaluation Exercise.

SELF-EVALUATION EXERCISE

You are a Personnel Management Specialist working in a Military Personnel Office. Your supervisor has asked you to determine the eligibility for reassignment for the soldiers listed on two CAP III Rosters.

On the following pages you will find two CAP III Rosters each containing two soldiers' assignment information. Following the CAP III Rosters will be the DA Forms needed to determine if these soldiers are eligible and available for their respective assignments.

Using the CAP III Roster, the personnel records for each soldier, and AR 614-200, determine whether or not each soldier is eligible for reassignment based on his AEA code, MOS, remaining service, DEROS, SIS, and citizenship.

Make a xerographic copy of the answer grid on page 62, or prepare an answer grid as shown below on a separate sheet of paper.

On your answer sheet, select from answers in columns A through G. If a soldier has a restriction or a number of restrictions, place an "X" under the appropriate column(s). If a soldier has no restrictions place an "X" in column G (ELIGIBLE). If you select column G, there should be no responses in columns A through F. If you do not select "G" (ELIGIBLE), remember that there may be more than one reason the soldier is not eligible. Be sure you consider All information in making your determinations.

Remember to make your marks on a separate sheet of paper. Do not write in this book.
